

Company Profile

WRG Steel Partitioning Limited was originally established in the early 1980's to manufacture partitioning and safety barrier systems. The continuous aim of WRG is to develop and produce value engineered quality products, competitively priced which provide value for money to our customers.

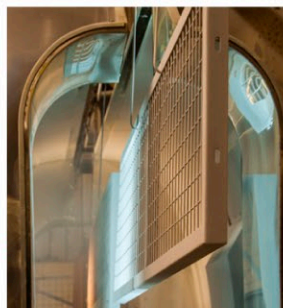

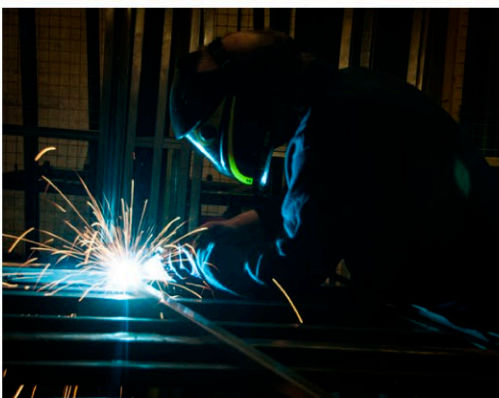

Our approach to manufacturing is simple. We ensure that our products are made from quality materials, using the latest technology and equipment, combined with highly skilled employees, to achieve the highest standards.

This means that WRG can supply many standard features from its range but is often relied upon to fulfil more challenging projects where the standard will not suit. Our individually designed solutions are commonly regarded as the most effective method of obtaining the best space management aligned with value for money.

Once WRG is involved with a project our aim is to react as quickly as possible to find a positive solution to any challenge. When costs are requested, quotations are in the customers' hands within 24 hours and our partition and safety barrier systems are supplied in 21 - 28 days - or sooner if possible - from drawing approval, depending upon product specification and manufacturing capacity.

Our Total Solution means that by involving WRG early in the project cycle we can assist each project from quotation, site survey (including Auto-CAD drawings), manufacture, supply, delivery and installation guaranteeing quality and value for money.
